Boy Rescued In Lake Mile From Shore

Winds Flip Sailboat, Send It Outward

By DICK DERRICK

Little David Braddock weighs just about 85 pounds—dripping wet—and that's the way he was when St. Joseph Coast Guardsmen pulled him out of Lake Michigan yesterday a mile out from shore.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Braddock, 5340 Notre Dame avenue, Stevensville. He was blown out into Lake Michigan opposite the Chalet on the Lake cottages, where he lives, when the plastic-hulled (Styrofoam) boat in which he was sailing near shore overturned.

BOAT TIPS

An accomplished sailor, the 13-year-old boy was no match for waves whipped by offshore 30-knot winds. He managed twice to get the 10-foot sail fish model sailboat righted but it tipped over and the two life cushions were blown away. He remembered the rule, "stay with the boat" and hung on. The temperature of the lake water was a cool 60.

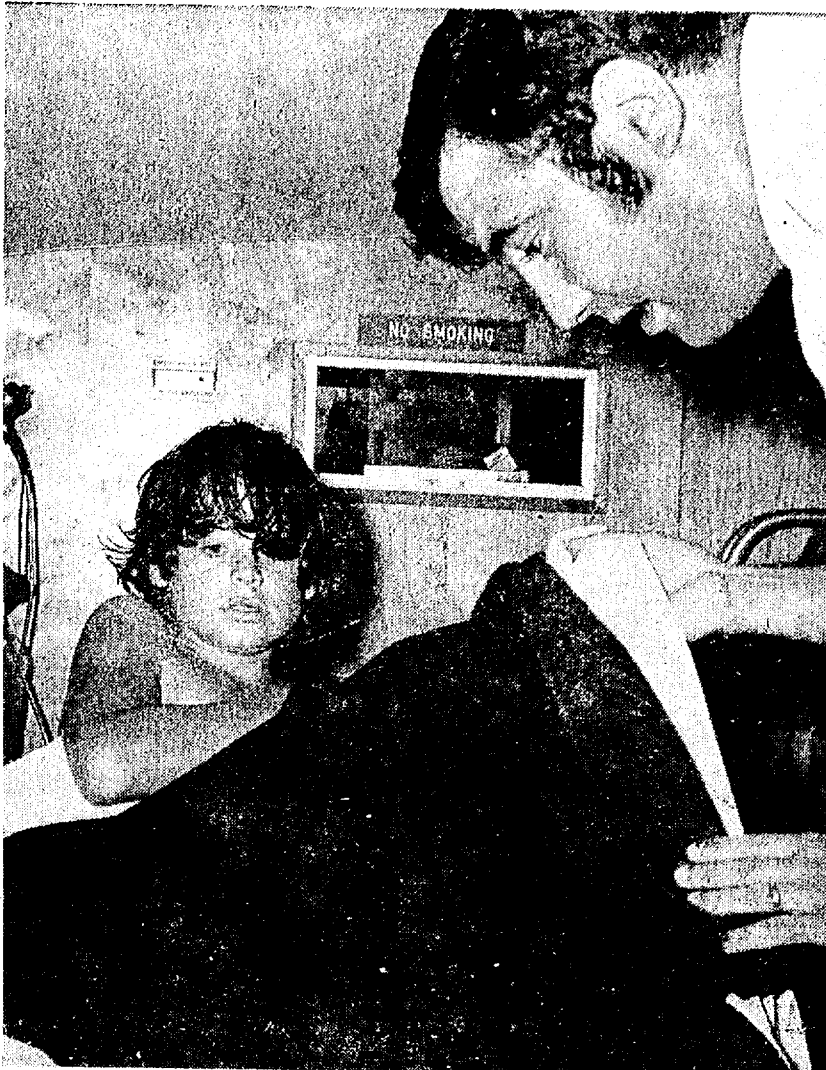

St. Joseph Coast Guard was called at 12:19 p.m. and in 44 minutes BM Jim Johnson was lifting the boy into the station's 44-foot rescue craft. The boy estimated he was first pitched into the lake about 11:30 a.m. He was in the water about 90 minutes.

Young Braddock was taken to Memorial hospital where he was examined and released. He went home about 3:30 p.m. with his mother.

He told Coast Guardsmen "I knew you guys would get me out" but he was worried because his two younger brothers on shore saw him in trouble but were too frightened to run for help.

Hot Potato Tossed Back To Sheriff

Stacey Denies
County Board
Is To Blame

Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell was in charge of food at the county jail prior to this week's prisoner demonstration that resulted in increased rations, says Lad Stacey, chairman of the finance committee of the Berrien County Board of Commissioners.

Jewell said Tuesday that the county board and one county employee had control of food buying and preparation before the protest caused him to step in and take over, expanding rations by as much as 50 per cent to cool things off.

STACEY DISAGREES

Stacey, well-known Berrien Springs resort owner, disagrees. In an interview with this newspaper he said that as long as he has been chairman of the finance committee, 21 months, Sheriff Jewell has, in fact as well as theory, been responsible for jail food.

Stacey said the sheriff has had authority to hire the food buyer and cook, and can fire them if he's dissatisfied.

At no time prior to the Tuesday riot had the sheriff asked the county board, either verbally or in writing for a higher food budget, Stacey said. In fact, he added, just two weeks earlier Sheriff Jewell had submitted a budget request for the same amount of food money for next year, $16,000, as he was allotted this year.

"The county board is a policy-making body, not administrative. Both by law, and in fact, the sheriff has responsibility to run the jail," Stacey declared.

"By statute Nick has the responsibility to feed the prisoners, and it's the commissioners' responsibility to see the money is there," Stacey said.

Jewell said he inherited a food purchase system when he took office in 1969 that did not include the sheriff and which was controlled by the then-board of supervisors, later commissioners.

"I'm not blaming the board of commissioners," Jewell said. "It's not my place to lay the blame. All I'm saying is it was not in my control for the purchase of the food."

"I had nothing to do with food at all."

SPREADS BLAME

Any blame should fall on commissioners as well as the sheriff, Stacey said.

DR. JOHN MANNING

SJ Doctor Moving To California

Closing Practice
After 20 Years

An opportunity to be a teacher was given by Dr. John Manning as the reason he is closing his medical practice in the Twin Cities after 20 years and is going to California.

Dr. Manning, 52, now chairman of the coronary care unit at Memorial hospital, will leave on Nov. 14 to take a position with the Permanente Medical Group in Sacramento. He will be an internist at the $11 million, 200 bed hospital which is a new Kaiser Foundation facility.

He will also be a clinical instructor in internal medicine at the University of California Medical School at Davis for two days a week. He was recommended for the position by Dr. John Tripper, dean of the medical school.

Dr. Manning's present term as a St. Joseph township board trustee will end Nov. 3. He and his wife reside at 1150 Miami road, Fairplain.

His medical practice at 815 Highland avenue, St. Joseph, will end officially on Nov. 13 but the office will remain open until Nov. 30 to transact business.

"In announcing my leaving the Twin Cities after 20 years, I can only say that it would require a tremendous opportunity for me to leave all my patients who also happen to be largely my friends," he said. "So I'll just say 'so long' because I'll be coming back for one reason or another for always."

He had served for a one year term in 1960 as chief of staff at Memorial hospital. He has also been active in the Rotary and Toastmaster clubs here.

Born in the Panama Canal Zone, Dr. Manning spent his childhood years in Muskegon where his father was a school principal for many years.

He received his medical degree from the University of Michigan in 1943 and then joined the United States Navy, serving until 1947 when he returned to the University of Michigan for research work on heart disease and high blood pressure. He then completed three years of specialized training in internal medicine before opening his practice at St. Joseph in 1951.

Tentative Agreement Reached

Leaders
Recommend Approval

A three-year contract with Whirlpool's St. Joseph division goes to a union membership vote Sunday with a recommendation for acceptance.

"The committee will recommend that it be approved," said M.B. Rogers, spokesman for the negotiating team of Local 1918 International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

The contract will be explained and union members will vote at a 2:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow in Benton Harbor high school. A week ago Sunday a company offer was rejected by a vote of 655 to 552.

Tentative agreement on a contract was announced jointly by union and company yesterday afternoon after a marathon bargaining session that began Thursday morning at Ramada Inn.

Terms of the contract were not announced, pending the membership vote. If approved, it will end the longest strike in Whirlpool history. IAM Local 1918 struck the St. Joseph division May 11, idling some 1,800 persons.

ASKS BIG TURNOUT
Alfred Romeo, Jr., local president, urged a big turnout for the vote tomorrow. He estimated that up to 1,700 persons are eligible to ballot.

The announcement by company and union yesterday said:

"A tentative agreement, pending membership ratification, has been reached between officials of Local 1918 International Association of Machinists and Whirlpool's St. Joseph division following a marathon 26-hour bargaining session."

"Details of the agreement will be made available to the union membership as soon as possible and a special meeting will be called for the membership to vote on the new pact Sunday Oct. 11. If approved, details of the new three-year contract will then be made public."

Keeler Crash Kills Bangor Couple

Iran Airliner Hijacked, Freed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Three Iranians hijacked an Iranian jetliner to Baghdad today and threatened to blow it up unless Iran released 21 political prisoners. Foreign Minister Ardeshir Ziaee announced the plane later was released through negotiations.

KEELER — A Bangor man and his wife died of injuries Friday following a one-car accident near here in which five other persons were injured.

Sgt. Roy Anderson of the Van Buren Sheriff's department identified the victims as Roy Allison, 46, and Betty Allison, 39.

He identified the injured as Linda Allison, 16; Pamela Allison, 3; Kenny Allison, six months; all of Bangor. Evelyn Elaine Allison, 22, of Niles; and Roy Hunt, 17, of Rockford, Ill.

The injured were taken to Lee Memorial hospital in Dowagiac. A spokesman there this morning listed all the injured as in "guarded condition."

Mr. and Mrs. Allison were the 23rd and 24th persons to die on Van Buren county roads so far this year. Last year at this time, 25 persons had lost their lives in traffic accidents in the county.

Anderson said the accident occurred about 4 p.m. Friday on county road 312 just east of M-152.

While the investigation has not been completed, Anderson said, it appears that the Allison station wagon went out of control on a rain slippery road. It struck a tree.

Funeral services are pending at the Calvin funeral home in Hartford.

Hot Potato In The County Jail Kitchen

An editorial in this newspaper Thursday asked why Berrien county jail inmates had to riot in order to obtain adequate food rations.

Promptly after prisoners began breaking up lavatories last Tuesday, Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell acknowledged their protest against skimpy meals was valid. He made arrangements to increase rations by as much as 50 per cent.

On the basis of Sheriff Jewell's published explanation of the way the jail kitchen had operated, the county board came in for criticism in this column. Sheriff Jewell said that prior to last Tuesday's demonstration he did not exercise control over purchase or preparation of jail meals. Control, he said, has been exercised by the county board and one county employee.

Emerging facts tend to minimize the board's role in the fiasco at the county jail, although not to absolve it entirely.

Commissioner Lad Stacey says that as long as he has been chairman of the county board's finance committee, 21 months, Sheriff Jewell has, in fact as well as theory, been in charge of jail food.

In an interview on today's front page, Stacey notes that the sheriff hires the food buyer and the cook, and can fire them if he's dissatisfied.

At no time prior to the Tuesday protest had the sheriff asked the county board, either verbally or in writing, says Stacey, for a higher food budget.

In fact, notes the finance chairman, the sheriff asked for exactly the same amount of food money next year, $16,000, as he was allotted this year.

Jewell still maintains he had exercised no control whatsoever over jail food prior to Tuesday.

Stacey concedes there may have been a failure in communication. He recalls that prior to his own tenure, it was common for members of the board's finance committee to spend considerable time overseeing jail kitchen operations.

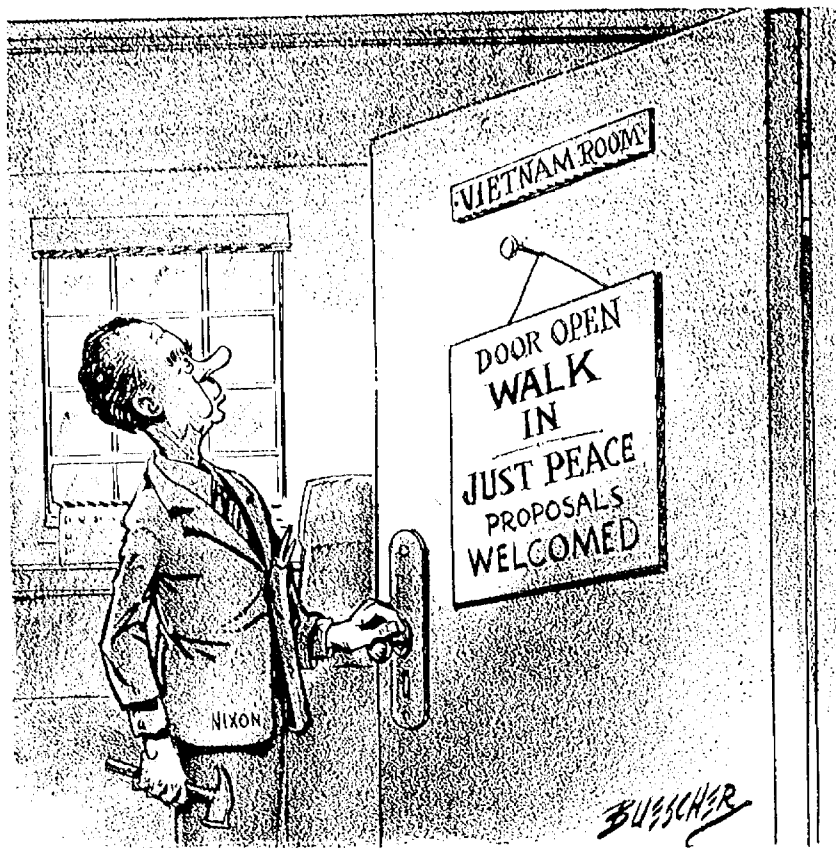

On the other hand, the sheriff did have ample opportunity daily to see what food his prisoners were getting. And to protest if the rations were insufficient.

It does little good to parcel out shares of blame for the incident. The public simply wants prisoners confined, not shorted at mealtimes.

This week's events should have a salutary effect all around. Responsibility for the jail appears quite obviously now to rest with the sheriff. He now knows it; the board agrees. That should take care of that.

But the county board cannot thereby get off the hook forever. As a policy-making body, it has some responsibility to assure its policies are properly carried out. Admittedly, it's both difficult and improper for individual commissioners to be hounding in. That's why this newspaper frequently over the years has suggested employment of professional county manager.

RELIGION TODAY

Black Minister For Racial Segregation

By REV. LESTER KINSOLVING

As a self-proclaimed advocate of freedom and revolution, Stokely Carmichael appears at odds with his beliefs in his unsuccessful efforts to restore to power Ghana's ousted dictator Kwame Nkrumah.

But in another field, religion, Carmichael may derive some measure of satisfaction in the presence of a devoted, follower on the highest governing board of the nation's fifth largest denomination.

The Rev. James Woodruff, like Carmichael a native of Trinidad, is a member of the Executive Council of the 3.6 million-member Episcopal Church.

The 34-year-old priest was not elected in the usual manner. Instead, the denomination's General Convention decided to give two Council posts to the Union of Black Clergy and Laymen of the Episcopal Church. Woodruff is executive director of this unofficial — and racially segregated — organization.

Woodruff is a strong advocate of racial segregation. He announced in 1968 that supporting integration is "like trying to put out a fire with gasoline." One year previously, however, he explained that "right now a tactical separation is the most significant form of integration. . . segregation must continue until the Negro can make a positive contribution to the culture of America."

Few other Americans will seriously contend that "the Negro" has made no positive contribution to American culture. Equally bizarre is what Woodruff has promised if the problem of race is not solved. Last January he told 1,100 students and faculty of Swarthmore College that otherwise "the black man will cut your heads off."

Other interesting pronouncements of this outspoken man of the cloth include a denunciation of Tarzan movies, as well as an assurance that George Washington cannot be admired by any black in America because he sanctioned slavery.

In his Executive Council post, Woodruff is given a vote in the expenditure of more than $11 million in national church funds — including the paying of a great many bills. On his own account, he has not always proven careful in this latter regard.

On July 13, 1967, the General Sessions Court in Nashville, Tenn., gave a default judgment against Woodruff, in the amount of $1,282. He had rented (and not paid for) a station wagon. When police finally recovered the vehicle, it had been driven 7,000 miles.

The station wagon was used by two of Carmichael's top aides, George Ware and Eugene Stephens, who were arrested in Woodruff's home and charged with citing to riot and carrying pistols, at the time of the Nashville riots.

A month later, Woodruff was ordered by his bishop, the Rt. Rev. John Vander Horst of the Diocese of Tennessee, to get his "liberation school" out of St. Anselm's Church, which he was serving as pastor. Nashville Police Captain John Sorace reported that the school was teaching hatred of whites. A subsequent report disclosed that the black youngsters in the school were playing "Nat Turner" — with competition to see who would slaughter the whites. Said Mrs. Woodruff, a teacher at the school: "We had many slave rebellions, but Nat Turner's was best!"

Shortly thereafter, Woodruff departed Nashville to become Associate Director of Communications for the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania. In just two years, he became a leading cause of the worst financial crisis in that diocese's nearly two hundred year history.

He then assumed his post with the Black Clergy Union — which promptly experienced its own financial debacle. The Union attempted (unsuccessfully) to collect a percentage of the parochial income and salaries — of all black Episcopal pastors. One of them lost interest in such a program "when I saw that cat (Woodruff) himself down for a $15,000 salary!"

This is nearly double the average of black colleagues' salaries. It is made possible by white Episcopal Church leaders who continue to subsidize Woodruff's segregated Union, even though the Episcopal Church is still on record as opposing racial segregation.

team of four championship.

At the first table, North-South bid their cards very optimistically and arrived at six clubs.

West led a spade and declarer discarded two hearts from dummy on his A-K of spades, ruffed a spade in dummy, and led a club. Luckily for declarer East produced the queen, cutting South's potential trump losers down to one. After the diamond finesse also succeeded, declarer was able to bring home the shaky slam.

South was actually more lucky than appears on the surface. Not only did he find both minor suit queens favorably placed, but he was also fortunate to get a spade lead from West.

Had West, by any chance, elected to lead a heart, declarer would have found it impossible to get to his hand in time to discard two hearts from dummy on the A-K of spades and he would have finished down two.

In fact, at the second table, where the bidding went:

| North | South |
|-------|-------|
| 1♦ | 1NT |
| 2♠ | 3♣ |
| 5♠ | |

East made the natural opening lead of the queen of hearts and North went down one after winning the heart with the ace and returning a club to dummy's king and West's ace.

It does seem that South's bidding at the first table was far less accurate than his counterpart's bidding at the second table, but how can you condemn such an outstanding success? All you need is a little luck!

Not Every Young Voter Will Be College Student

Some colleges and universities across the country are providing time off for their students to participate in the political campaign that ends with Congressional elections Nov. 3. Princeton University, for example, will shut down for two weeks beginning Wednesday, Oct. 21.

Hmm, interesting.

One day not too long ago, Thomas Hale Boggs, Jr., Democratic candidate for a Maryland congressional seat, went out to the University of Maryland to address a rally. Although the school had been the scene of violent protests last spring, only a handful of students turned up to hear him. Grabbing a loudspeaker, a Boggs aid shouted: "Free beer!" But even that was not enough to stir the students out of their apathy.

As colleges, universities and even some high schools liberate their charges for a two-week period — to be made up later — so they can take part in the political campaign, the question is whether they will actually participate. And if they do, will they create backlash among older Americans?

Leaders of the student-powered Movement for a New Congress, one of the major organizers of the campaign, predict that some 100,000 students from hundreds of campuses will try to elect "peace" candidates this November 3. But other strategists aren't so sure that students will turn out now that the furor over Cambodia and the killings of students at Kent State and Jackson has died down.

While candidates are wary of student participation in the campaign and some are actively denouncing student militancy, both Republicans and Democrats are hopeful of attracting youthful support. Today, one in every seven Americans of voting age is under 26 years old. Unless the Supreme Court intervenes, the lowering of the voting age from 21 to 18 effective on Jan. 1, 1971, will mean that one in every five Americans of voting age will be under 26.

Republicans are taking their cue from President Nixon. He declared in a speech at Kansas State University on September 16 that administrators and faculty members must "stand up and be counted" in the face of campus unrest instead of putting the responsibility on the government. Democrats are attempting to disassociate themselves from New Left firebrands. For example, Senator George McGovern (D S.D.) issued a statement on August 31, assailing radicals who "jeopardize the chances of constructive change by flaunting their own foolish and disruptive tactics."

The goals of student campaign organizers are now much more modest than they were last spring. Instead of talking of electing a new Congress that would force Nixon to end the Viet Nam war quickly, they hope to add a few more "doves" to the peace bloc while holding the seats of anti-war incumbents. They have also steered student activists away from some campaigns — such as that waged by Senator Albert Gore (D Tenn.) — where participation could be counter-productive.

A manual prepared for student volunteers cautions canvassers to "be aware of sources of resentment against you for what you represent to some people. . . a neat appearance and considerate, respectful manner will do much to reassure people." Despite the problems, some campaign organizers believe the students can make an important contribution. A House candidate can save $10,000 in mailing costs if he has 100 students to deliver his literature to homes, according to one strategist.

Some professionals caution, however, that too much attention is being paid to students and not enough to others in the same age bracket. A Census Bureau projection shows that in 1972 the 18-21 age group will not only include 4.9 million students but 4.1 million workers, a million housewives and 800,000 in the armed forces. The middle of the road may be the best place to close the generation gap.

All over Michigan this past summer parents with children from the ages of 4 or 5 up to 12 or 13 have had reason to be grateful for Eastern Standard Time.

Earlier darkness made it simpler to get children off the streets at a reasonable hour. They were in bed at a more

..And Speaking Of Your Health

HYPNOSIS continues to emerge as a remarkable technique for the control of some medical problems that resist success by other methods. Since the American Medical Association gave its definitive stamp of approval on hypnosis, thousands of doctors and psychologists and dentists are employing this special skill.

It takes arduous training to learn all the safety factors and possible hazards in this now accepted medical tool.

Hypnosis is not a party Dr. Coleman game. Hypnosis is not a stage comedian's toy. When used for medical purposes, the results are often astounding.

A new application of hypnosis has been tried by Dr. David R. Collison, of Sydney, Australia. He has taken a series of adults who were chronic bed-wetters, and was able to produce cessation of the condition. In his series there were patients who had been bed-wetters for 25 or more years. These turned to hypnosis as a last resort after lives of tremendous embarrassment.

Enuresis is the technical term for bed-wetting. During hypnosis Dr. Collison was able to learn a great deal about childhood experiences and emotional trauma that might have been responsible for the condition.

The emotional implications of the disorder and its control emphasizes that such a precarious situation cannot be toyed with by those who are incapable of complete psychological mastery of hypnosis.

Dr. Donald L. Morton, of the National Cancer Institute, has prepared a new vaccine for a highly specialized type of cancer known as sarcoma. Based on the concept, yet unverified, that viruses are implicated in some types of cancer, the vaccine was used in a very small number of patients.

Dr. Morton simply reports the fact that in his small series of cases, recurrence of the cancer was lessened.

It must be emphasized that this is a highly theoretical observation, but it illustrates another of the many avenues that are being constantly explored in the hope of finding the eventual answer to cancer.

At the University of California, in Los Angeles, an experimental study is being carried out by Dr. Albert A. Barber on slowing down the aging process.

It has been found that vitamin E may play an important role in the function of certain cells, and may prevent the degeneration and deterioration of these cells.

Dr. Barber in his experimental study is investigating the possibility that aging may be slowed by the use of vitamin E in discriminatingly chosen amounts. We will hear more about this study when it is completed.

Lenore Concedes Hopes Dim

'Got All The Bad Breaks,' Candidate Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mrs. Lenore Romney conceded Friday "it doesn't look like" she can upset Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., in the November general election.

She said in a speech at Cedar that "I got all the bad breaks." But the 61-year-old wife of former Gov. George Romney said she will still "do everything I can" to win.

Mrs. Romney, the GOP candidate for U.S. Senate, referred to recent public opinion polls that show her running behind Hart by as much as 3 to 1, saying: "I have never had any reason to doubt polls. As far as my experience with them goes they are good indicators."

CITES ARTICLES

She said one "bad break" was a series of articles printed in The Detroit News alleging that her husband, now secretary of Housing and Urban Development, had picked suburban Warren to force racial integration.

She said a "very damaging" primary campaign waged against her by State Sen. Robert Huber of Troy, a conservative was another adverse factor in her campaign.

The speech was to some Michigan newspaper editors.

Mrs. Romney also said "backlash concerning women's liberation" was hurting her, and that "I go into factories and they say, 'Why aren't you home in the kitchen?'"

She insisted, however, that she has seen ups and downs and "Maybe I'll get some good breaks now."

LEVIN, BRICKLEY CLASH

In Detroit, meanwhile, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Saul Levin and Republican nominee for lieutenant governor James Brickley clashed in a joint campaign appearance before the Michigan Society of Gerontology.

Brickley accused Levin of "election-eve adjustment" of his record, claiming Levin had changed his stand on legalization of marijuana, service in Vietnam and amnesty for law-breakers.

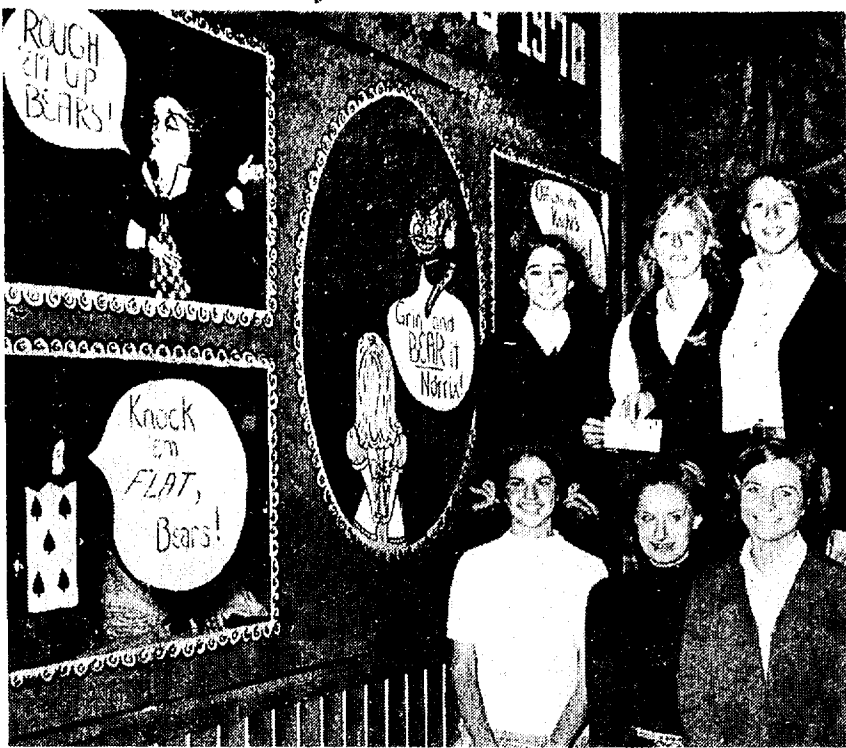

Levin replied that Brickley was "flinging mud" and indulging in "reprehensible" campaign tactics.

CHANGES POSITION?

Brickley said that six months ago Levin was undecided on the marijuana and Vietnam War service issues, but now opposes legalization of marijuana and claims he would serve in Vietnam.

He said Levin also opposes amnesty for draft dodgers, now, although he previously called for amnesty for students involved in campus disturbances last March.

Levin replied he has always opposed legalizing marijuana and that there was no comparison between his opposition of amnesty for draft dodgers and favoring amnesty for students in what he called "a delicate matter of race relations" at Ferris State College.

Levin said that despite "strong misgivings" about the war, he would serve in Vietnam if called.

Two Blacks Accused At Pontiac

PONTIAC (AP) — Two black Pontiac Central High School students have been charged with assault with intent to commit murder in the shootings Monday of four white youths during a racial clash.

Held in lieu of $30,000 bond each following their arraignment in district court Friday were Jerry Cooks, 18, and Isaac Wallington, 17.

The four white youths, shot while fleeing a group of blacks outside Pontiac Central, were not critically injured.

UNDER CURFEW

The racially troubled city remained under an 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew for the third straight night Friday and officials said the curfew would be continued Saturday night.

The city continued in a state of emergency despite a relatively quiet day Friday in which police arrested three persons.

Two persons were arrested for possession of fire bombs and a third was arrested for violating a state of emergency prohibition against gathering in groups.

Pontiac school superintendent Dana Whitmer said Friday a decision will be made Monday whether Pontiac Central High School and Eastern Junior High School will be reopened.

Both schools were closed following three days of racial violence that saw five youths wounded by gunfire.

YOUTHS RECOVERING

The youths, four white and one black, are recovering.

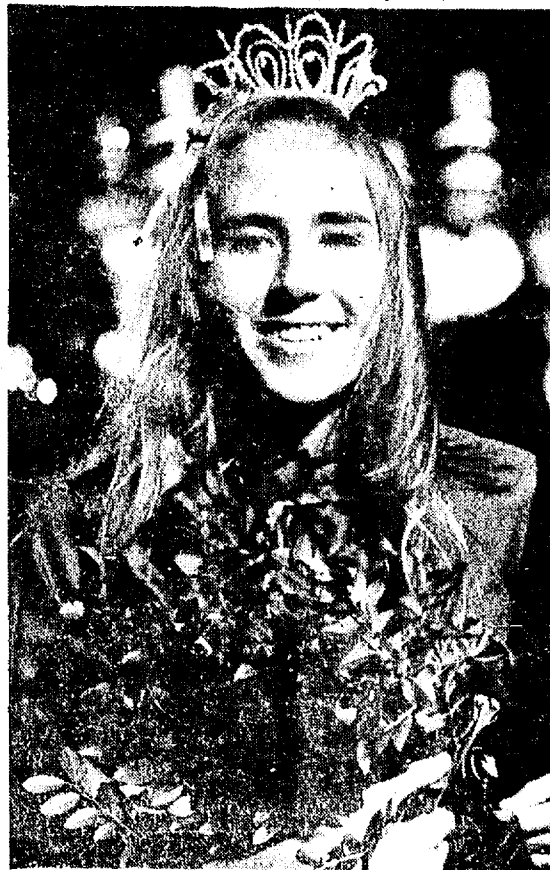

The Michigan Civil Rights Commission (CRC) Thursday blamed the city's week of racial violence, punctuated by rock throwing and confrontations between white and black youths, on the city's failure to act on a report on race relations submitted nearly two years ago.

The commission's president, Julian A. Cook Jr., said the report has been ignored and that as a result Pontiac is "still a city divided."

"The fact that the city has polarized so quickly is indicative that nothing has been done," Cook said.

Water Availability Protects Industry

With today's availability of water, firemen are able to better cope with large industrial fires than they were when the Benton Harbor Auto Machine Co. burned in 1920 because of an inadequate supply.

Benton Harbor Fire Marshal Roy Hearn says the city fire department can today tap two 600,000 gallon tanks on Eighth street. And that is not enough, a four-million gallon tank stands by on I-94, near Lake Michigan college.

Hearn released the statistics as part of Fire Prevention Week which began Sunday and ends today.

Hearn compared the water availability to that in 1920, when not a wall of the industrial concern was left standing. The loss of the Auto Machine company was estimated at that

Demand Exceeding Capacity

Some Customers For Home Heating Can Be Added

MONROE (AP) — The Michigan Gas Utilities Co. says it will ask the State Public Service Commission for permission to curtail all future sales of natural gas to new customers in the 11 southern and western Michigan counties it serves.

Company President John Hancock said the request is to assure an adequate supply of gas for the company's present 70,000 customers.

WILL ADD HERE

In its western division, which includes Benton Harbor, South Haven, Grand Haven, Otsego and surrounding communities, the company estimates 1,000 home-heating customers still can be added without endangering the gas supply.

Once that quota is met, however, the company will add no new residential, commercial or industrial customers in this area until further notice. Nor will it allow any home-owners to convert to gas heat or industries planning expansion to use more gas.

Pending approval by the Public Service commission, these same restrictions, without any allowance for additional home-heating customers, will also take effect in the southern division, which includes Monroe, Hillsdale, Coldwater, Sturgis and surrounding communities.

Hancock cited federal pricing policies which he said have discouraged exploration for new reserves as a major reason for the proposed move. Also blamed was the increased demand by industry for natural gas to meet federal pollution control guidelines.

MUST CUT BACK

Kenneth McCormick, vice president of Michigan Gas Utilities, said in an interview today his company is "just one of the ones in the country that's going to have to cut back."

McCormick predicted cut-backs will last a year or two until gas supplies increase. And he also predicted every gas company in Michigan will seek permission to limit service to new customers "because they're in the same position we're in. The gas just isn't available."

Buchanan Will Meet On Tuesday

BUCHANAN — The regular meeting of the Buchanan city commission has been changed from Monday night to Tuesday night, to avoid conflict with Columbus Day Monday, a legal holiday, according to City Manager Robert Paulhaber.

The main item on a brief agenda will be a resolution for the sale of bonds to finance the city's proposed remodeling of the present wastewater treatment facilities.

The authorization of the bids on the project will also be considered. The commission will also decide if to take bids on a new police radio system so that Buchanan can become integrated in the county-wide radio network.

$1 License Fee Would Be Dropped

Sen. Lockwood Here; Denies Racist Charge

By SANDRA ENGLE

Elimination of the $1 fee charged to driver's license applicants for the uninsured motorist fund was proposed Friday by Emil Lockwood, Republican candidate for secretary of state.

He brought his campaign to the Twin Cities yesterday morning during a breakfast at the Benton Harbor Holiday Inn. Nearly 1000 supporters turned out.

Lockwood said he has the support of State Sen. Charles O. Zollar (R-Benton Harbor) in the legislature and the two will seek a change in the law that now requires the fee.

If elected, "I'll try to increase the number of people in my office to handle claims. The slowness and unfairness in settling of claims through the fund is inconvenient to insurance companies and their clients," he told reporters in a press conference after the breakfast.

The former Senate majority leader from Elm Hall (near Alma) also said he isn't worried about the newspaper polls showing him behind his Democratic opponent, Richard Austin.

"The Detroit News showed Austin ahead in his campaign for mayor of Detroit against Roman Gribbs — right up until the last. And Austin lost that one."

On other issues, Lockwood, 51, denied he had injected racism in to this fall's election campaign. James McNeely, Democratic State chairman, accused him of racist campaigning Wednesday.

He said he and his opponent were running on their own qualifications. "I deeply resent the charges, particularly when you consider my record — appointed to the New Detroit Committee after the riots, one of the major sponsors in passage of the open housing bill, sponsor of tenant right's legislation as supported by the blacks."

"Every black delegate to our party's state convention voted for me."

Nothing that the secretary of state office represents the largest amount of political patronage he would not use political patronage to fill openings in the 230 fee branch offices to the secretary of state's office.

"Civil service appointees will be used in existing state offices and in cases of both a fee branch and civil service office operating in the same area, I'll close the fee branch to save money."

A fee branch office is one where a sheriff department or other local unit gives out driver's licenses.

"Where there is no secretary of state office I'd propose contractual services, perhaps with a chamber of commerce."

A certified public accountant and holder of a masters degree in business administration from the University of Michigan, he also said he would recommend that the alcoholic content test for drunk drivers be dropped to .10 per cent alcohol in the blood from the current .15 and that the point system for driving be changed to make the violation in line with the punishment and keep dangerous drivers off the road.

Stevensville Decision To Stand

A would-be mobile home park operator's suit to obtain a building permit from the Village of Stevensville was dismissed Friday by Berrien Circuit Judge Karl F. Zick.

The dismissal of a suit by Allen Grams of St. Joseph came because Grams' complaint did not state facts on which the court could grant relief, according to the judge. The dismissal does not bar Grams from filing again, however.

In a suit filed July 16 against the village, village trustees, president and building inspector, Grams claimed the village acted without cause in denying him a park permit. He sought a court order for the defendants to issue the permit.

STREAKING COMETS DAZZLE LAKESHORE, 27-7

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

Staff Sports Writer
COLOMA — Coloma's Dana Carlson stole four passes from the inept Lakeshore aerial attack and the rest of the Comets teamed up to grab away any Lancer hopes for a repeat Blossomland championship here Friday night.

Coach Bob Rakauski's team came off with an impressive 27-7 homecoming triumph to remain unbeaten while sharing the Blossomland lead with Brandywine. The Lancers stand at 1-2 in the conference with just two touchdowns in four games.

Lakeshore did manage to crack a vaunted Coloma defense which allowed two previous Blossomland foes an overall minus two yards rushing with four first downs by running for 131 yards, just 20 yards less than the Comet total, and seven first downs, but the needed passing punch was again nonexistent.

Two Lancer passers failed to make a completion in seven attempts, and two of the four interceptions led to Coloma touchdowns.

"That makes us eight for 45," commented Lakeshore coach Neil McLaughlin on the Lancers' horrible season passing statistics. "There are going to be some changes made."

While not playing safety on defense, Carlson handled quarterback and kicking chores for the Comets. He hooked up with halfback Dave Balsis for a 29-yard touchdown pass play and passed to Dave Vollrath for a two-point PAT. He also kicked another PAT and got off a 65-yard punt.

"I'd like to have Carlson on our ballclub," continued McLaughlin. "If we had him, I think we'd be undefeated."

Joining Carlson in the Coloma scoring column were fullback Tony Vitale with a touchdown run of three and five yards and wingback George Hauch on a 49-yard TD scamper which broke up a tight 8-0 game in the third quarter.

Gary Gardner scored the Lakeshore touchdown and Chuck Trapp added the PAT kick in the final period after the Comets had finished their scoring.

Coloma scored on the very first series of the game by marching 69 yards in 12 plays. The key play in the drive was a 25-yard Carlson to Stan Zech pass on a third and nine situation from the Lakeshore 40. Vitale pulled three yards up the middle for the TD and Carlson passed to Vollrath for the PAT with 5:51 left in the period.

Neither team got past the other's 43-yard line the rest of the half. Coloma finished the half with a total of 73 yards and four first downs, while Lakeshore had 34 yards and three first downs.

Lakeshore took the second half kickoff and moved to the Coloma 32, where a Scott Obmstead pass was grabbed by Carlson.

The Comets were then forced to punt after three running plays, but Lakeshore fumbled the kick and Jeff Reinhardt recovered the ball for the St. Joseph's touchdown happy Bears went on another scoring spree at Dickinson Stadium Friday night to the delight of nearly 3,000 fans who sat through high winds to watch coach Mike Muhlenkamp's team score its fourth straight victory of the season and fifth in a row over a two-year span.

Before the first quarter was over, Clay scored on a 21-yard run by quarterback Gary Evans and, early in the second period, Phil Bonadies tallied on an eight yard run. A pass from Evans to Jeff Cavander tied the score.

It stayed that way until a 29-yard pass from Tim Linville to Louie Garner and another kick by Powers with 20 seconds left gave Niles a 21-14 halftime lead.

Riley scored twice in the third quarter on runs of two and 47 yards and Ken Hoese got the final Niles' touchdown in the fourth period on a nine yard run.

Mike Damschroder ran every-seven touchdowns in the Bears' first three games, was blanked last night, but his running made it possible for Patzer to score his three.

The St. Joseph senior carried the ball 24 times and gained 117 yards, 62 in the first half and 57 in the second half, as the Bears put 279 yards rushing into the record book and picked up 14 of their 18 first downs on the ground.

"You've got to give our offensive line a lot of credit," declared an elated Muhlenkamp. "They did some fine blocking to open the holes."

Such was the case on two of Patzer's touchdown "sneaks" through the center of the Norrix line. He scored on a one yard crash in the third period and a two yard burst in the fourth through holes made by center Jim Czirr and guards Ed Preston and Mike Garay.

Patzer's first touchdown came early in the second quarter on a fourth down option play and covered six yards on a sweep of his own right end.

A 20 yard run by Fritz Knauf, made possible by a key block from Jeff Zimmerman at the five, gave the Bears their final score. Zimmerman had just entered the game to replace Stan Watts who was shaken up on a tackle after a 29 yard pass completion from Patzer. A fumble recovery by Jerry Helmker made it all possible.

With its running game going in high gear, the Bears elected to stay on the ground with the exception of five times when Patzer went to the air. He completed three, including an 18 yard screen pass to Damschroder in the second quarter and a 22 yard toss to Dave Selmer in the fourth period.

About the only disturbing features of the game for Muhlenkamp were two scoring threats that failed to end in touchdowns.

Norrix took the opening kickoff and held the ball for seven minutes on a drive that started on their own 15 and was finally stopped at the Bears 28 when Hunt stopped a fourth and one try by Mark Lyster.

The Bears then drove to the Norrix two, but a sweep by Damschroder lost a yard and the Bears gave up the ball on the Norrix three.

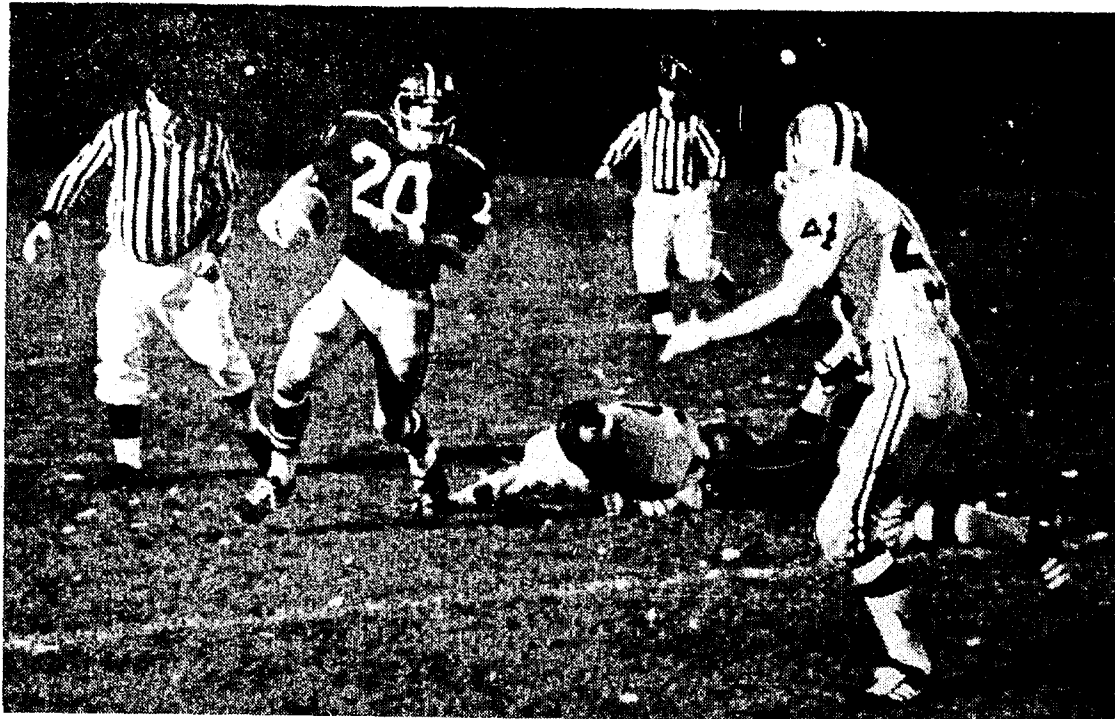

Late in the second quarter, Hunt pounced on a Norrix fumble at the Kalamazoo 19, but the Bears gave the ball back to the visitors four plays later when Patzer fumbled on the seven with Brian Crandall recovering.

Norrix did a pretty fair job with its ground game in the first half gaining 81 yards. The defense stiffened in the second half, forcing quarterback Geoff Randall to go to the air.

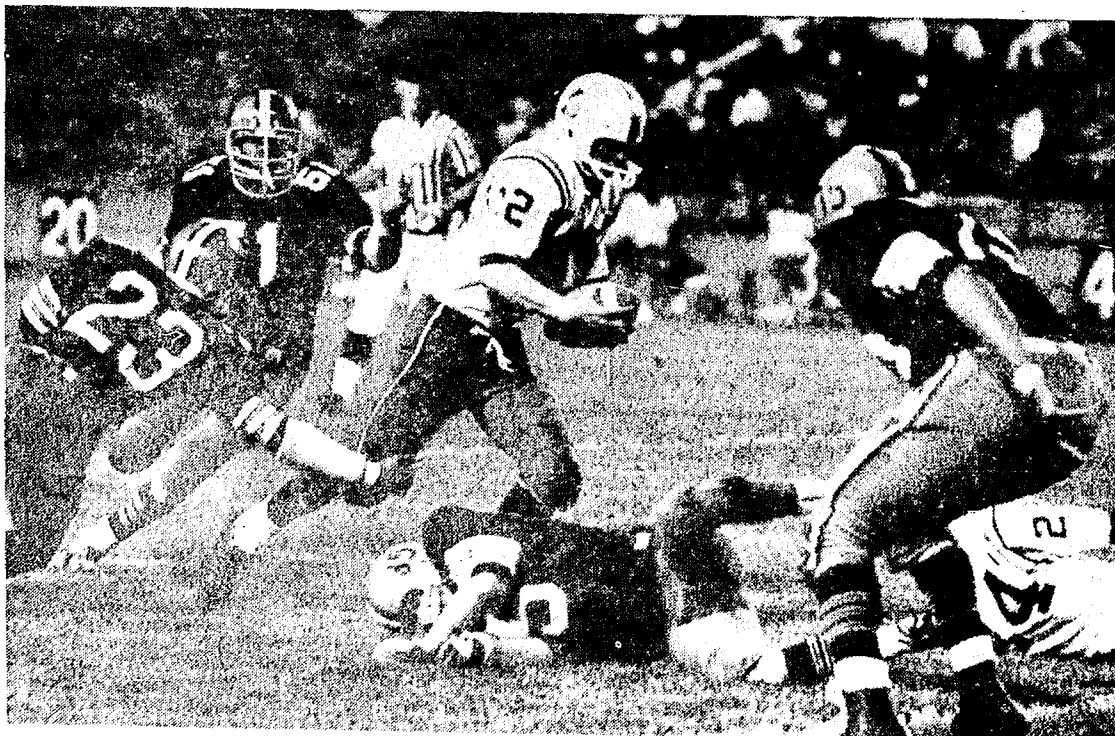

"Our defensive line did a lot better job in the second half," declared Muhlenkamp. "It took them a little while to get adjusted to the quickness of the Norrix team. Then, too, Norrix hit us harder than any team this year, and that made a difference."

It was in the air that the St. Joseph defense got burnt for the first time this season. Don Radde threw a third down play for a two yard loss at the St. Joseph 25. With fourth and three to go, Randall hit Dennis Dick at the 15 and the Norrix flanker scored with 20 seconds left in the third quarter.

A 31 yard punt return by Stan Watts that gave the Bears the ball on the Norrix 23 set the stage for the Bears' first TD. The key play in the drive was a 13 yard run by Knauf who moved the ball from the 18 to the five with a couple of fine

It may be impossible to make a silk purse from a sow's ear or turn lead into gold, but Benton Harbor's football team pulled off an equally nifty trick Friday night.

The Tigers turned a gridiron jalousy into a juggernaut. Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills sputtered into town with only six points to show for its first three games but roared away in high gear after fueling up with a devastating 40-20 victory over the Tigers at Filstrup Field.

It was unbelievable.

The invading Indians needed less than four minutes to surpass their scoring output of three full games, and before the night was over they had rolled up more than 400 yards rushing while pasting six touchdowns on the scoreboard.

Six different Ottawa players scored the touchdowns and five of them gained more than 50 yards rushing in scoring drives that covered 80, 78, 54, 76, 95 and 54 yards.

"I've never seen anything like it," a complete collapse of a defense," Benton Harbor coach Les Butgereit said of his team, which had given up only 241 yards rushing in its first three games put together. "They not only ran over us they ran right through us."

"It's really discouraging now. I don't know what to think." All-American Ron Govert, now an assistant on the Benton Harbor junior varsity, was equally stunned.

"I scouted that team last week and they looked terrible," he said of Ottawa Hills. "Know what score I predicted for tonight? — 30 to zip in our favor."

That possibility was quickly eliminated when Ottawa scored the first time it had the ball, but Benton Harbor fought back and actually led 20-16 midway through the second quarter after two straight touchdown runs by tailback Frank Atkinson.

Ottawa resumed command at 28-20 before intermission, however, and never relinquished the lead again while running up the highest point total.

Benton Harbor team had yielded since Traverse City posted the Tigers 44-0 in Butgereit's first year at the helm.

Two key plays completely squelched the Tigers' hopes in the second half.

The first and probably the most costly was a fumbled handoff that was recovered by the Indians' Bruce Pruitt on a fourth down play at the Ottawa Hills four-yard line on the opening series of the second half. "That was the turning point right there," Butgereit said. "It was supposed to be a pitchout to Rodney (Rhodes) going to the left, but Stan Harris bumped into (Jim) Grannell and we lost the ball. If we had scored there it could have been 28-0."

Ottawa promptly drove back down the field, but appeared stalled by an illegal procedure penalty that set up a fourth-and-eight situation at the Harbor 16. Quarterback Alan Greeson bailed the Indians out with a 12-yard pass to John Alcorn, however, and they went in to score two plays later for a 34-20 lead.

Pruitt, running from the fullback position in Ottawa's 1-formation attack, led the Indians with 120 yards rushing in only 13 carries and his teammates compiled some pretty fair statistics, too.

Greeson was 8-83 yards, Roland Crawford 9-64, Tyrone Wilkins 8-72 and Alcorn 8-55. Each of the five passers scored one touchdown, with little-used Terry Bouknight getting the other one.

Halfback Willie Lacy led Benton Harbor with 95 yards in 18 carries, but got only two points on a conversion. Atkinson was 8-48 with two touchdowns and Harris 7-29 with one score. Rhodes carried six times for 43 yards as Atkinson's understudy.

Fumble recoveries by Mark Fry and Glenn Johnson launched two of Benton Harbor's three scoring drives, but in the end the Tigers had the worst of the turnover situation by losing three fumbles and suffering two pass interceptions, one each off Grannell and John Pate.

The victory avenges an 18-8 loss to Benton Harbor last year and lifts the Indians above the 500 mark with a 2-1-1 record. Benton Harbor now has a 2-2 record to take into next Friday's home game with Kalamazoo Central.

Panthers Overwhelm Bridgman

WATERVLIET — The Water-vliet Panthers and Bridgman Bees may be all even in the record book, but they're definitely going in different directions.

Coach Jerry Barlett's young Panthers left little doubt of that fact here Friday night as they completely overwhelmed the Bees 28-0 in a Red Arrow conference game.

It was the second straight victory and second straight 28-point output for Water-vliet, which now is 2-1 in Red Arrow play and 2-2 for the season.

Bridgman also is 2-2 for the year, but stands 1-2 in the Red Arrow and hasn't scored a point in two weeks.

Junior tailback Mike Leath again was the kingpin in Water-vliet's victory here last night as he lugged the ball 32 times for 157 yards and two touchdowns, giving a total of five TDs in the past two weeks.

Sophomore fullback Gary Blocker backed him up with 57 yards and another touchdown in seven carries while quarterback defenses in tackles.

"Of course it helped that we had the ball so much," Barlett said of the defensive performance. "We've still got a lot of work to do on defense."

"We had many, many miscues throughout the game and we're going to have to correct them. We're looking better, but we made an awful lot of mistakes that we can't afford to make next week."

Water-vliet scored once in each quarter, with Leath opening the pointmaking on a four-yard run that capped a sustained drive of 35 yards.

Freshman tailback Bob Bolin, Leath's relief man, ran for the two successful conversions.

All told, the Panthers rolled

"Of course it helped that we had the ball so much," Barlett said of the defensive performance. "We've still got a lot of work to do on defense."

"We had many, many miscues throughout the game and we're going to have to correct them. We're looking better, but we made an awful lot of mistakes that we can't afford to make next week."

Water-vliet scored once in each quarter, with Leath opening the pointmaking on a four-yard run that capped a sustained drive of 35 yards.

The Panthers apparently were hammering in for another score when a penalty set them back for a first-and-15 situation at the Bridgman 15-yard line in the second quarter. They quickly cashed in on a perfect pass from Bain to Formosa.

Bridgman then mounted its only serious threat, driving for a first down at the Water-vliet five-yard line on the passing of quarterback Perry Gipson plus a key halfback pass from Roy Baggett to Willie Rittmon.

The Panthers slammed the door at that point, however, and took over on downs at their own one-yard line with only two seconds left in the half.

It was all Water-vliet in the second half, with the Panthers scoring runs of 12 yards by Blocker and five yards by Leath and passing up another golden opportunity by fumbling the ball away at the Bridgman one-yard line in the third quarter.

A desperate Bees never could get their aerial attack going again and suffered an additional loss when Gibson was sidelined with an injury of unknown severity.

CITY OF ST. JOSEPH

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN

AUDIT REPORT

AUGUST 21, 1970

August 21, 1970
To the Commission
City of St. Joseph, Michigan

We have examined the statement of financial condition of the City of St. Joseph, including the Water Supply System, as of June 30, 1970, and the related statement of receipts and disbursements for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures, including those prescribed by the State Treasurer, as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the assets and liabilities of the City of St. Joseph, including the Water Supply System, at June 30, 1970, arising from cash transactions, the revenues collected and expenses disbursed by it, and changes in municipal equity during the year then ended, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.
